

Drugs & Kids

an Open Forum - 11/7/07

Join us for a frank, informative, open discussion led by an expert in drug use, abuse, prevention and recovery.

Bring your questions and concerns to this open forum class – a safe environment in which to discuss issues regarding drug prevention, recognizing suspicious signs, establishing appropriate consequences, and setting boundaries. We will also share resources for those that would like to get further information or help. Regardless of how young or old your children are, this promises to be a very educational, stimulating, and valuable evening as you get your questions answered by an expert and learn a great deal from the shared experiences of others in the class.

- Class Size: Maximum of 25. Both adults and adolescents may attend.
When: Wednesday 11/7/07, 7:30-9:30pm
Where: Campbell Community Center, Board Room E-42
Cost: Free! - registration is required

Instructor:

Mark Pensler has been certified by the State of California as a professional alcohol and drug counselor and has decades of experience working as a teacher with children in grades 3-12, and with all age groups in therapeutic settings which address drug use, addiction, and recovery issues. He currently works at Camp Recovery in Scotts Valley, CA where he is a Family Program Specialist, and provides group, individual, and family counseling in the areas of substance abuse and recovery.
